Tenerife South-Reina Sofía is the airport more focused on international tourism among the two located in the island.

Aiming at offering the best possible experience to its users, the airport has installed new street furniture elements.

The Vallès bench has the particularity of being made with a perforated steel sheet treated with Ferrus, which guarantees high resistance to corrosion.

The Argo Plus bin is also made of steel treated with Ferrus. It includes laser-cut square holes to give it a modern touch and a rain-cover which also prevents people from throwing large waste items.
